

Donations Appreciated

Contributed by Terry
Thursday, 26 June 2008
Last Updated Thursday, 10 July 2008

Thank you for taking a special interest in the Cook's Crew Fanclub and we appreciate any and all support. All expenses come from our own personal accounts and we do try and do all we can for the site but we also have to keep in mind our financial limits. Therefore we've begun accepting various methods of financial donations to help support the site. We'll soon have multiple ways in which you can help, so check back every so often for new donation links and how they help us.

If you would like to donate funds towards covering server costs then please click the below icon. All donations towards funding/upgrading the server are processed directly through paypal and credited into our hosting account.

If you'd rather make a general contribution to the site and allow us to use the money to help fund the various games and activities planned for the site then you can use the below PayPal link to donate.